

Featured Artist: Jennifer Ramerman

Dry Canyon Arts Association invites you to see the watercolors of Jennifer Ramerman at Arome in Redmond during First Friday, November 4th from 4-7pm. Jennifer retired 3 years ago and began her artistic journey in earnest. As a longtime amateur photographer, she began using her photos as inspiration for her watercolor paintings. She enjoys her many adventures to photograph the amazing nature that surrounds us. She experiments with multiple exposures and when she can't quite get it to work in the camera, will paint her vision. She continues to explore many different art mediums such as pastel, colored pencil, charcoal and recently purchased a glass kiln. She is experimenting with using glass frit powder to paint on sheets of glass.
